

Beverly Beach State Park: A Complete Travel Guide

Beverly Beach State Park is one of Oregon's most beautiful coastal escapes. Nestled between Newport and Depoe Bay, this park offers a perfect mix of forest, ocean, and outdoor adventure. Towering trees provide shade for campers, while the sandy beach stretches for miles along the Pacific Ocean.

It's a favorite stop for road-trippers exploring the Oregon Coast Highway, known for its scenic views and peaceful atmosphere. Visitors come here to enjoy beach walks, picnics, surfing, and watching gray whales migrate just offshore. Whether you're camping under the stars or spending a quiet day by the waves, Beverly Beach State Park is an ideal spot to experience Oregon's wild coastline.

Quick Facts About Beverly Beach State Park

- Location: Between Newport and Depoe Bay, Oregon Coast
 - Address: 198 NE 123rd St, Newport, OR 97365
 - Managed By: Oregon State Parks
 - Park Type: Coastal state park with beach access and campground
 - Opening Hours: Open daily, year-round
 - Entry Fee: Free day-use; camping fees apply
 - Facilities: Campground, restrooms, showers, picnic areas, playground, hiking trails
 - Activities: Beachcombing, whale watching, surfing, camping, hiking, tide pooling
 - Pet Policy: Dogs allowed on leash
 - Nearby Attractions: Yaquina Head Lighthouse, Devil's Punchbowl, Oregon Coast Aquarium
 - Best Known For: This park is known for its easy beach access, family-friendly environment, and scenic mix of forest and ocean views, making it a must-visit stop along Oregon's coastal route.
-

Best Time to Visit Beverly Beach State Park

Beverly Beach State Park is a year-round destination, but the best time to visit is between May and October, when the Oregon Coast enjoys mild temperatures and clearer skies. These months bring the best balance of warmth, sunshine, and ocean breeze, making the spot ideal for beach activities, camping, and sightseeing.

Spring (March to May)

Spring marks the start of pleasant weather along the coast. Wildflowers bloom across the park, and gray whales can often be spotted migrating offshore. Temperatures range between the mid-50s and low 60s °F, perfect for hiking the coastal trails and enjoying fewer crowds before summer arrives.

Summer (June to August)

Summer is the most popular season at Beverly Beach. Expect highs in the upper 60s °F with cool coastal breezes and long daylight hours. This is the best time for camping, surfing, beachcombing, and exploring nearby landmarks like Yaquina Head Lighthouse and Devil's Punchbowl State Natural Area. Campsites often book out months in advance, so early reservations are essential.

Fall (September to October)

Early fall is a local favorite. The crowds thin, the weather remains mild, and sunsets paint the sky in gold and orange hues. It's one of the best times for photography, tide-pooling, and leisurely walks along the shore. Ocean conditions are calmer, making it a peaceful escape for nature lovers.

Winter (November to February)

Winter brings cooler temperatures and dramatic ocean waves, offering a unique side of Oregon's coast. Although it is rainier, the park transforms into a serene retreat, making it perfect for storm watching, beachcombing after tides, or cozy cabin stays nearby.

Whether you are visiting in peak summer or during the quiet winter months, Beverly Beach State Park promises something special in every season, from sunny adventures to tranquil, rain-kissed mornings.

Things to Do at Beverly Beach State Park

Beverly Beach State Park offers a mix of outdoor adventure, coastal charm, and peaceful nature escapes. Whether you love camping, beach walks, or wildlife watching, this park has something for everyone.

Beachcombing and Tide Pooling

Stroll along the wide sandy beach where the surf meets scattered driftwood and colorful pebbles. At low tide, explore tide pools filled with starfish, crabs, and sea anemones. These areas are great for photography and a fun educational experience for families with kids.

Camping Under the Trees

One of Oregon's most popular coastal campgrounds, Beverly Beach offers over 250 campsites shaded by towering trees. You can choose from tent sites, yurts, or full-hookup

RV spots. The campground is clean, pet-friendly, and just steps away from the ocean, a rare combination on the Pacific Coast.

Whale Watching

From late December through mid-January and again in March to May, gray whales migrate along the Oregon coast. Bring binoculars to the viewing points near the beach or visit Cape Foulweather, just a few miles north, for panoramic ocean views and excellent whale-spotting opportunities.

Surfing and Kite Flying

The beach's consistent waves attract surfers year-round, while steady coastal winds make it a perfect spot for kite flying. Locals and visitors alike enjoy spending breezy afternoons watching colorful kites dance against the blue Pacific sky.

Hiking and Exploring Nearby Trails

Several scenic trails connect the park to nearby attractions. You can hike along the forested trails leading to Otter Rock or venture south to the Devil's Punchbowl State Natural Area, a natural sea cave carved by crashing waves, one of Oregon's most photographed landmarks.

Picnicking and Family Fun

The park offers several picnic areas with tables and ocean views. Families can enjoy beach picnics, build sandcastles, or simply relax to the soothing sound of the waves.

Visit Nearby Attractions

Beverly Beach is conveniently located between Newport and Depoe Bay, two of Oregon's most charming coastal towns. Visit the Oregon Coast Aquarium, Yaquina Head Lighthouse, or sample local seafood at one of Newport's waterfront restaurants.

From sunrise strolls to cozy campfire nights, Beverly Beach State Park blends relaxation and adventure in a truly Oregonian way.

Where to Stay Near Beverly Beach State Park

Whether you prefer a cozy campground, a boutique inn, or an oceanfront rental, the area surrounding Beverly Beach State Park offers plenty of lodging options for every traveler. Here are the best nearby places to stay:

Beverly Beach Campground (Inside the Park)

Best For: Campers and families seeking a nature-filled stay.

Stay right in the heart of the park with tent sites, RV hookups, and yurts surrounded by lush coastal forest. The campground has restrooms, hot showers, and easy beach access. Families love the peaceful setting and proximity to both nature and the ocean.

Inn at Otter Crest (3 miles north)

Best For: Couples or families wanting comfort with scenic views.

Located near the dramatic cliffs of Otter Rock, this seaside resort offers condo-style accommodations with ocean views, pools, and kitchenettes. It is a short drive from the park and close to Devil's Punchbowl and Whale Watching Center.

Sylvia Beach Hotel, Newport (5 miles south)

Best For: Romantic getaways or travelers seeking a quiet retreat.

An iconic literary-themed hotel overlooking Nye Beach, where each room is inspired by a famous author. No TVs or Wi-Fi, just books, ocean views, and peace.

Hallmark Resort, Newport (6 miles south)

Best For: Families and travelers looking for full-service amenities.

This upscale oceanfront resort offers spacious rooms, private balconies, an indoor pool, and a spa. Located near the Oregon Coast Aquarium, it's ideal for those wanting modern comforts near the beach.

Depoe Bay Vacation Rentals (10 miles north)

Best For: Small groups or couples wanting a scenic, private stay.

Depoe Bay, known as the “Whale Watching Capital of the Oregon Coast,” has charming ocean-view cottages and Airbnb rentals. Many include hot tubs and decks overlooking the water.

Agate Beach Motel (4 miles south)

Best For: Budget-friendly travelers and pet owners.

This pet-friendly, retro-style motel offers direct beach access and cozy suites with oceanfront balconies. The sunsets from here are stunning.

From forested campsites to ocean-view resorts, accommodations near Beverly Beach State Park cater to every travel style and budget, making it easy to extend your Oregon coast adventure.

Travel Tips for Visiting Beverly Beach State Park

Plan ahead and enjoy a smooth coastal escape:

- Reserve Your Campsite Early: Beverly Beach State Park is one of Oregon’s most popular coastal campgrounds. Campsites fill up quickly, especially during summer and holidays. Book your site through the Oregon State Parks website several weeks in advance to secure a good spot near the beach or forest edge.
- Dress in Layers: Even in summer, coastal Oregon can be cool and breezy. Mornings are often foggy, and temperatures drop quickly after sunset. Wear layers, bring a windbreaker, and keep a light rain jacket handy in case of drizzle.
- Watch the Tides: Check the tide schedule before heading out for beach walks or tide pooling. Low tide is the best time to explore sea life and rock formations safely. Avoid venturing near rocky areas when the tide begins to rise.
- Pack for Rain and Sand: The park’s ocean breeze can bring moisture and sand into your gear. Use waterproof bags for electronics, bring extra towels, and consider a small mat to keep your tent or car sand-free.
- Respect Wildlife: From seabirds to tide pool creatures, Beverly Beach’s ecosystem is delicate. Observe from a distance, avoid feeding animals, and never remove shells, rocks, or sea life.

- Explore Beyond the Park: The park's central location makes it easy to explore nearby attractions like Yaquina Head Lighthouse, Devil's Punchbowl, and the Newport Aquarium. Plan a day trip or two to make the most of your stay.
 - Arrive Before Sunset: Parking and navigation can be tricky after dark, especially if you are camping. Arriving early helps you set up comfortably and catch the stunning coastal sunset over the Pacific.
-

Conclusion

Beverly Beach State Park offers one of Oregon's most peaceful coastal escapes. With its long sandy shoreline, forested campsites, and easy access to nearby attractions, it's perfect for families, couples, and solo travelers alike. Whether you're camping under the stars, walking along the beach at sunrise, or exploring nearby Newport, every moment here captures the true spirit of the Oregon Coast. Ready to plan your trip? Download our free Oregon Coast travel guide to discover the best beaches, state parks, and local attractions.

[\[Download PDF\]](#)

Frequently Asked Questions

What is Beverly Beach State Park known for?

Beverly Beach State Park is famous for its wide sandy beach, scenic coastal setting, and forested campground located just steps from the ocean. It's one of Oregon's most popular state parks for camping and family beach trips.

Where is Beverly Beach State Park located?

The park is located on the central Oregon Coast, off the U.S. Highway 101 between Newport and Depoe Bay. It's easily accessible and ideal for exploring nearby coastal attractions.

Is Beverly Beach State Park open year-round?

Yes. Beverly Beach State Park is open year-round for both day use and camping. However, summer and early fall are the best times for beach walks and water activities due to milder weather.

Can you camp at Beverly Beach State Park?

Absolutely. The park has a large, shaded campground with full-hookup RV sites, tent sites, and cozy yurts. Reservations are recommended, especially during peak season.

Are pets allowed at Beverly Beach State Park?

Yes, leashed pets are welcome in the campground and on the beach. Always follow local leash laws and clean up after your pets to protect wildlife.

What are the best things to do near Beverly Beach State Park?

Popular nearby attractions include Yaquina Head Lighthouse, Oregon Coast Aquarium, Devil's Punchbowl, and whale-watching tours in Depoe Bay.

Is swimming safe at Beverly Beach State Park?

Swimming is possible, but visitors should use caution due to cold water and strong currents. Beachcombing, tide pooling, and kite flying are safer and more common activities.

When is the best time to visit Beverly Beach State Park?

Late spring through early fall (May-October) offers the best weather for camping and beach exploration. Winter visits are quieter, with dramatic coastal views and fewer crowds.

How much does it cost to visit Beverly Beach State Park?

Day-use parking typically costs a small fee, and camping rates vary by site type. Updated rates are available on the Oregon State Parks website.

Can you see whales from Beverly Beach?

Yes! Gray whales are often spotted during their migration seasons in winter and spring, especially from nearby viewpoints like Otter Crest or Cape Foulweather.